Are YOU Doing YOUR Part?

Many are not doing the work God has called them to do. Are you? Read this article to be sure.

by L. Leroy Neff

The greatest and the most important work on this earth today is the work of God. God's work involves all nations and people! It is going to affect the future of all mankind! He is just now preparing the stage for end-time cataclysmic events which will shake this world to its senses.

You Have Your Part

You are called to have a vital and necessary part in that work. You probably do not remotely realize the tremendous responsibility that God has laid upon our shoulders, because you have not yet perceived what great things God is doing, and will do through His Church.

This work requires the diligent and zealous labor of all those in the Church, and yet many of you are not doing your part! Many of you do not realize the seriousness of the time. You do not realize your particular part in completing the work that God has given us to do.

We know too many sit on the sidelines and criticize those who are doing the work, while they fail miserably to perform what God has called them personally to do. This should not be!

This is not a one-man work, nor is it alone the work of God's ministry, nor the work of Ambassador College. It is the responsibility and work of the complete Body of Christ—the whole Church of God. No one man, no group of men, no local congregation can alone perform the tremendous task which God has laid before us. It requires the power of the Spirit of God within all of us working zealously together to perform this mighty task.

This Prophecy Concerns You Personally

There is a prophecy which has been read in your hearing many times over the WORLD TOMORROW program that you probably do not even yet fully realize. It is a prophecy which vitally and personally affects you wherever you are. It involves many things that you probably do not realize.

Jesus Christ foretold these days in which we live. He said that in this end time His work would be accomplished. "And this gospel of the Kingdom SHALL be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come" (Matt. 24:14).

This prophecy concerns you personally—not just Mr. Armstrong, or the ministry of God's Church. It requires the collective efforts of all God's people, empowered by the Holy Spirit of God to fulfill this vital end-time prophecy.

No other work—no other church—is preaching this same gospel of the Kingdom to the world today.

This prophecy is the end-time fulfillment of the Great Commission that Jesus Christ gave to His Apostles before He returned to heaven. He commanded His Church—His ministry—to preach this gospel to the world as a witness, "teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world." (Matt. 28:20).

No other church is teaching the world to observe the things that Christ commanded. The churches today do not believe in observing anything except those pagan holidays which God condemns. They do not observe the things that God commanded, and which Christ and the New Testament Church did observe.

Here again is more proof that this is actually the work of God. It is the work that God has called you, along with all of the others in God's Church, to perform.

This is the work for the Body of Christ in our day. This is "one body" and not many! It is one work, and not many works. God's Church is not split and divided into all different sects and denominations. It is one work that God is doing through His Church.

Preparing the Way for Christ

We each pray almost daily "Thy kingdom come" as Jesus Christ instructed us in the "Lord's Prayer." We also sing fervently "Come thou Almighty King." But do you realize that Christ Our King will not come till you and all of the others in God's Church, empowered by the Holy Spirit of God, have performed this work first?

Christ will not come now—today or tomorrow—because the work will not yet be finished. There is a tremendous amount of that work yet undone. Before...
Christ will return, the prophecy of Matthew 24:14 will be fulfilled. God has given us a very singular and wonderful work to do. A work that He has called no other generation to do. No other people have had such a wonderful opportunity. And yet, most of us do not fully realize or recognize it.

In a sense, God has called us to prepare the way for Christ's return. What a wonderful thought, that God has entrusted us with such a vital mission in this end time!

Many Do Not Answer the Call

God states that He has opened a great door for us (Rev. 3:8) and yet sometimes we are hardly able to take advantage of the many, many opportunities—doors—that He does open up to us.

Why is this so?

Why is it continually necessary for this great work of God to be so needful of sufficient funds to carry out this work and to go through new doors God is opening?

Why is it Mr. Armstrong is compelled to frequently send out impassioned pleas for help?

Why is it that only a small fraction of God's Church recently responded to his urgent request for pledges?

The reason is made very plain in the Scriptures. It is not God's fault. God is calling many thousands of people. But only a few of those whom God has called to send in of their tithes and offerings are answering that call. Only a part of those whom God has called into His Church are faithfully doing their financial part or praying as they should.

That is the reason! Many are not answering the call of God to serve financially. Some of those who do answer are not faithful in continuing their devotion and service to God. They either do not regularly send in such gifts and offerings, or they are not faithful in continuing.

Willing to Serve?

There are many people who are perfectly willing to say: "Here am I, Lord, send me." But when it gets right down to the details, these people are not willing to serve God unconditionally, without reservation, without any strings attached. There are many who would want to be sent as evangelists or office managers. But few are willing to be sent or to serve in whatever capacity God assigns them!

Why are there not more people like David who was willing to be a "doorkeeper" in the House of God? David was not seeking after high position and glory. As a result he was given great honor and glory in this physical life, and will have great glory in the Kingdom of God. He was willing to do the mental tasks.

God wants men and women who will yield themselves and dedicate their lives to God completely, without reservation or strings attached. He wants people who will not say, "I want this job or that job," "I want to work here or there," "I want to work under these particular conditions." Instead: "Here am I, use me in whatever way you wish.

God wants dedicated people who will continue faithfully after the newness wears off and the work may become "routine"—who will be satisfied in the job and not "grow weary in well doing."

On a recent baptizing tour several people asked me, "Why don't you have a church in our small town? Other churches do. And why don't you have a school here for my children?" These were the people who look to Mr. Armstrong to provide all of these things for the whole world. These same people were not doing their part. God had called them and yet they were not faithful in the little things that God had already given them to do. Usually the ones who are the most critical are the ones who do nothing. If we are not faithful in little things, God will not make us responsible for the big things.

God's Work Is Growing!

In spite of all the need, God's work is still growing at a tremendous rate. Much work is being done. Much fruit is being borne. Thousands of lives are being changed continually, and people are turning to God's way of life for the first time in their life.

The broadcast is going forth continually with greater power. New stations are being added so that more new people are able to listen to the broadcast. The literature is going out in greater quantity all the time. New booklets are being added. Many new articles are available on a great variety of Bible subjects. The literature leaves the Ambassador College Press Building by the tons.

This overseas work is expanding so rapidly that we are hardly able to send enough called and trained personnel to fill the need. New ordinations of deacons, elders, and ministers are taking place from time to time. Yes, God's work is sprinting forward at a greatly accelerated pace in spite of our lack and continual need.

Baptismal Tour Shows Fruit of God's Work

Some of the fruit of this work has been brought to my attention in recent weeks. I was very happy to have the privilege of going on one of our baptizing tours for just two and one-half weeks. Assisting me was Mr. Bill Winner, a junior at the college. We met many people from all walks of life who are having their lives changed as a result of this work of God. This reminded me of Christ's parable of the seed as found in Matthew 13. He explained that many do hear the word of God but do not fully understand it. Even those things which they do understand are caught away by Satan. We met several people just like that on our tour. They had heard the word of the Kingdom of God which Christ preached over the world tomorrow broadcast. They understood a few things, and came to us for more. But in several cases, what little they did understand was being snatched away by Satan.

I am reminded of a young man in just this situation. He had heard the broadcast and understood many of the things concerning the truth. But he did not do as the Bereans did to prove whether these things are so (Acts 17:11), and search the Scriptures daily. He went to the "higher critics" for proof as to whether or not God's Word was inspired. He was not grounded in the Word of God yet, so only confusion and questions resulted. Satan, through his "higher critics," was snatching away what little this young man understood.

Weighed in the Balance?

The city of San Francisco is also an example of what Christ said in this parable. Here is one of the great cities (Please continue on page 11).
Does It Matter Which Days We Observe?

Some brethren need to WAKE UP from their spiritual laxity and begin to perform what Jesus commanded!

by Herman L. Hoeh

Our baptizing tours have discovered a dreadful spiritual condition among some brethren. They have found, for example, that some have been carelessly neglecting Jesus' passover command: "Do this in remembrance of Me."

Some admitted they just "forgot" about the passover service. Others insisted they did not know where to purchase wine!

Brethren! If, INDEED SOME OF YOU ARE BRETHREN, this must not be!

THINK of it! Some of you have supposedly ACCEPTED THE BLOOD OF JESUS CHRIST—His PERFECT, Holy, Righteous Self, in your stead! You have asked your Heavenly Father to apply the sacrifice of THAT perfect Life to blot out YOUR SINS!

WHAT AN INEXCUSABLE, UNTHINKABLE, HEEDLESS, CARELESS, UNGRATEFUL ACT—to IGNORE the command of your Saviour to observe the commemoration of the shedding of that precious blood!

You who have done such a thing, I sternly REBUKE with the very indignation of Almighty God, and in the name of the Jesus Christ you have been FORGETTING!

Don't carelessly say: "I don't see as it makes any difference whether I observe these days!"

It Does Make a Difference!

Brethren, it does make a difference! Your eternal destiny depends on it! You are soon—very soon—going to stand before the judgment bar of Christ. Then you won't carelessly say: "I do not think it makes much difference", or, "Here is the way I look at my situation."

It does not matter how you look at it, or what you think. God says it makes a difference with Him! You can't treat His Son with disrespect and get away with it! There is a way that seems right to a man—to some of you—but the end result are the ways of death (Proverbs 14:12).

You will be judged by what God says—not by what you think!

But neglect of the passover service is not the only cause of spiritual lack. Many more of you have been neglecting to attend the Feast of Tabernacles. Some living no more than 250 miles from the Tabernacle grounds claim "it is too far to go"—or they "just did not have the money."

These typical excuses are not valid reasons. The only reason some of you do not have sufficient money is that you have failed to save your second tithe—you have been disobedient! And as for distance—there is no distance too great to keep you from the feast if you want to come. Some brethren travel 2500 miles each way to attend!

The real reason why some of you have not been coming is that you are ashamed of your spiritual condition—your smoking habits you haven't overcome—your other problems. Brethren, that is just the reason you need the Feast of Tabernacles! You cannot afford to miss it!

I met one man last year at the feast whom I had not seen for six years! He confessed to me: "I had to come. I found myself drifting—I knew I could not continue that any longer. So I am here and will continue to be here henceforth."

Yes, it does make a difference!

A New Testament Command

Christ never once offered an animal sacrifice. Yet Christ kept the sabbath and the annual festivals—and we shall see He commanded us to do the same.

Jesus kept the feast of Tabernacles (John 7:2, 10, 14, 37). He set us an example that we should follow His steps! The apostle John was inspired to write: "He that saith he abideth in Him and walketh in the light of the light, in the same walketh with Him" (1 John 2:6).

Are we walking as Christ walked? Are we doing the things Christ commanded?

Jesus commanded His apostles to teach their converts "to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you" (Matthew 28:20). You have been taught these things. But it seems some have carelessly neglected to heed that teaching!

The apostle Paul commanded Christians to follow him as he followed Christ. What was Paul's example?

Paul, the apostle to the Gentiles, not only observed the sabbath and the annual festivals, but commanded his converts to do the same! It is in your New Testament!

So the sabbath and the annual Holy Days were not done away with after all. Of course! They originated before the law of Moses—and they now continue long after the law of Moses ceased to be binding.

But notice the examples of Scripture. Notice the inspired New Testament practice of God's Church. Notice why we do these things today!

The New Testament PROOF

In 1 Corinthians 5:7-8 we have a New Testament command to a church predominantly of Gentile origin. Notice Paul's instruction! "Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump...

Why? Why put out leaven, the type of sin?

"For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us." Sin has been paid for. Christ paid for and conquered sin in the flesh! Therefore let us keep sin from recapturing us. Let us keep sin out of our lives! How? By what annual reminder? Here is the apostle's answer:

"Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven—but with unleavened bread!" (John 6:5).

In 1 Corinthians 11:18-34 the apostle had to explain in detail how to keep the passover in the local congregation.

To these same Gentile converts at Corinth Paul writes: "For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to remain a while with you, if the Lord permit. But I will remain at Ephesus until Pentecost" (1 Cor. 16:7-8). No Halloween here—or Christmas or Whitsunday! But what do we find? The feast of Pentecost—and in the predominately Gentile city of Ephesus.

That should not surprise us. Fifty-four days after everything that was nailed to the cross was abolished the disciples and apostles were assembled to keep the day of Pentecost! Notice Acts 2:1, "And when the day of Pentecost—one of the annual festivals God ordained, not some pagan feast—... when the day of Pentecost was being fulfilled, all were together in the one place" (Panin trans.).

Here again is the New Testament example. What could be plainer! Then Luke and those with him—"sailed away from Philippi—"a Gentile city—after the days of unleavened bread..." Notice. Luke did not sail after Easter or some other pagan holiday. They sailed away after they had marked the days of unleavened bread!

Example of the Colossian Church

Did you know that your New Testament reveals the Gentile converts at Colosse were keeping the annual sabbaths, were following God's calendar, and rested each weekly sabbath? It is there! The very scripture most often quoted by the churches to separate from the traditions of the world—but they still lived in a world steeped with pagan superstition and custom. They were under pressure from their neighbors to give up their newfound faith. Their Gentile neighbors did not like them taking up with Biblical practices. They did not want any "Jewish practices" developing in their community! They wanted everybody to continue with the traditions and doctrines of the pagan philosophers, whom the world respected. They weren't about to have their pagan holidays replaced by God's holy days, or their sunworship rites superseded by the weekly sabbath, or the pagan Roman calendar replaced by God's calendar.

Gentile Colossians Were Ascetic

Colosse was a very ascetic community. The people there did not believe in enjoying pleasure. They believed in rigidly suppressing the body "in order to purify the soul." They thought that any indulgence of the senses was wrong. They fasted often, punished themselves, were vegetarians in part, refused to eat those clean meats God created for us, and thought drinking wine was terrible! To keep everybody "in line" they brought social pressure, and instituted local "blue laws" to keep the preaching of the gospel from spreading. (See The Church in the Roman Empire Before A.D. 170, by W. M. Ramsay, Chapter X.) These pagan beliefs were commonly known to the heathen by the name "philosophy." Paul used this very word in Colossians 2:8: "Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments (or basic concepts) of the world, and not after Christ.

Philosophy was the doctrine that you could pay for your own sins by denying yourself the pleasures of the body. It was a pagan doctrine which denied the need of a Saviour. It was called philosophy because the pagan philosophers were responsible for its introduction. Socrates, Plato and Aristotle, among others, taught that the soul was immortal, that the body was a prison house, that the soul could be released from this prisonhouse of flesh only if it were purified from any desires of the flesh.

The early Catholic writers used this same expression in their day to mean asceticism. "It was very common...to call an ascetic mode of life 'philosophical,' or 'the life of a philosopher.' The prevalent sentiment had its roots partly in the prevailing ideas of contemporary philosophy, which instinctively emphasized strongly the dualism of spirit and matter, and the necessity of subduing the latter to the former, and partly in the increasing moral corruptness of society." The Neo-Platonic philosophy of the times, through its doctrine of the purification of the soul by its liberation from the body or sensuous things, taught celibacy and ascetic practices generally. (From pp. 252 and 549 of Nicene and Post-Nicene Fathers of the Christian Church, second series, edited by Schaff and Wace.)

Those who followed this philosophy were stern ascetics. They were the opposite of many other Gentiles who loved pleasure and indulged in the sins of the flesh, whose motto was "Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die."

Not so the Grecian Gentiles at Colosse. They severely judged their Christian neighbors for the least infraction of ascetic behavior. They did not like to see the Christians freely eating meat good for food, or drinking moderately, or keeping the sabbath and the annual festivals. That is why Paul wrote: "Let no man therefore judge you for eating or drinking, or in connection with the observance of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days" (Col. 2:16, margin).

Here were Gentile converts, judged by relatives and neighbors, for doing the things Jesus did, Gentiles being judged for their part in the celebration of festivals commanded to be observed forever. Here were Gentiles judged for keeping holy the days God made holy! And yet this verse has been cleverly quoted by the churches to make it say the exact opposite of what it does say. It is time we noticed what this chapter really says. It is time we see for ourselves the meaning of this scripture, and quit taking for granted what it nowhere says!

Not Law of Moses

Probably most of us have taken for granted for years that Paul is writing about the law of Moses in Colossians—that the newly converted Gentiles there were being led into "Judaism." This is absolutely untrue! There is not one indication that there were any Jews attempting to lead Christians into Judaism. (See the plain admission of this in the Introduction to Colossians in the International Critical Commentary.)

Paul does indeed speak of Judaism in Galatians and Romans, but not here in the book of Colossians. Notice with your own eyes the startling proof here revealed—proof that the converted Gentile Colossians were being judged by their heathen neighbors for keeping the days God made holy.

Consider verse 8 again. "Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit"—it does not say the law of Moses. It does speak of pagans who adhered to "philosophy."

Continuing: "after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ." The evil doctrines Paul is condemning were of the world. The world then was a Gentile world. It was a pagan Roman world, filled with foolish and vain traditions. The Jews prided themselves on being racially separate from the world. The Jews thought themselves superior to the sinful Gentile world. So these traditions were Gentile traditions which Paul warns us to beware of.

Now verses 9 and on: "For in him (Christ) dwelleth all the fullness of the Godhead bodily." God dwelt in Christ, not in the philosophers. "And ye are complete in Him, which is the head of all principality and power." We are all. These evil practices were different. They had really been forgiven. They were no longer bound to their past sins. They had no longer the guilt of following human customs, human ordinances, human decrees and vanity. Their sins had been blotted out; Christ had taken them away. Every truly converted person knows what a relief it is to have his sins blotted out forever, never to reappear in the judgment. And it was all accomplished by Christ who "bare our sins in his own body on the tree" (1 Peter 2:24).

What Was Nailed to the Cross?

Notice that Christ was nailed to the cross. He bore our sins. When He shed His blood from the cross in our stead, He thereby blotted out all our sins by paying for them in full with His own life. It is sin which was blotted out. Notice Acts 3:19, "that your sins may be blotted out." "Have mercy upon me," cried David, "blot out my transgressions. . . . Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities" (Psalm 51:1; 9).

Turn now to II Corinthians 5:10: "For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad." Are your bad deeds covered by the blood of Christ? Are the sins which stood against you blotted out?

Next, read Revelation 20:12. Here is what happens in the final judgment. "And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life. And the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works."

The record of your past sins stands at this moment against you—unless Christ's blood covers them, blot them out. Christ died to blot out the written record of your and my guilty past. The record of our past sins has been figuratively nailed to the cross, taken out of the way.

Now we all can better understand Colossians 2:14. Notice this verse as it stands in the King James Version. "Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross."

Haven't you assumed this verse to mean God's law?—some assume the ten commandments, others the law of Moses. But look at the verse again.

What is blotted out? SIN! It does not say "the ten commandments." It does not read "law of Moses," or "works of the law." It reads "handwriting of ordinances."

What "ordinances" were these?

Sinful Pagan Customs

Let the Bible answer. Paul tells us in verses 20 to 23 of this same chapter:

"Wherefore if ye—the Gentile converts—be dead with Christ from the rudiments (fundamental principles or ideas) of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances? (verse 20). ORDINANCES! Notice it. But which ordinances? Notice the answer in the next verse: "(Touch not; taste not; handle not; which are all to perish with the using;) AFTER THE COMMANDMENTS AND DOCTRINES OF MEN?"

There you are! They were human traditions! Ways of sin! Continuing: "Which things have indeed a shew of wisdom in will worship—pagan asceticism—and humility, and neglecting of the body, appearing outwardly humble and self-denying, but inwardly self-righteous—"but are of no value against indulgence of the flesh" (last part from Panin trans.).

Did you catch it? These evil practices were pagan ordinances, or customs of men—based on the commandments and doctrines of pagan speculative philosophy. They were beaten ordinances, beaten customs forbidding people from touching, tasting and handling those things God allows. We see the same customs today: don't dance, don't drink, etc. in pseudo-Christianity today!

These heathen Gentiles at Colossae did not want the righteousness of God. They wanted their own righteousness. 'Don't eat this! Don't drink that! Don't touch something else.' In other words, a pagan republic of "don'ts."

So the original inspired Greek for "handwriting of ordinances" is not even referring to Moses' laws! In fact this is not a proper translation! The original Greek reads 'chirographon tois dogmein." It does not mean a code of laws.

The Greek word for "handwriting" originally referred to "a note of hand, or writing in which one acknowledges that money has either been deposited with him or lent to him by another, to be returned at an appointed time." (From Thayer's Lexicon.)

It came later to refer to any acknowledgment of debt. We all owe a spiritual debt to God because of sin. We have all sinned and must pay that penalty or have Christ pay it for us. That is the meaning of the word "handwriting:" here—an acknowledgment of debt. But how was it originally translated? What did the Colossians do that brought on that debt of sin? The answer is in verse 13. What was blotted out were trespasses (verse 13, last part) incurred through following sinfull ordinances, believing lying dogmas—like the doctrine of the immortality of the soul which was at the root of pagan asceticism.

Nothing is said here about any "law of Moses." Those Gentiles had never heard of or kept that law!

So the written record of sins which were blotted out involved the frightful practice of evil pagan ordinances for which Christ paid the penalty and God forgave us.

How Colossians OBEYED

The Colossians had been taught the gospel. They obeyed it. They were doing the things Christ did. Christ was living His life in them as they yielded to Him. They were being knit together in love (Col. 2:2). Love is the fulfillment of the law (Romans 13:10). The Colossians were keeping God's law. Like other Gentiles they had not heard of God's law before it was preached to them. (See Romans 2:12,13.) They did not know the way of love. But now they not only knew it, they were practicing it!

They were no longer ascetics, trying to conquer the flesh by themselves. They were conquering themselves through the Holy Spirit. But God gives His Holy Spirit only to those who OBEY Him" (Acts 5:32). Because the Colossian Christians were obeying God, it made their neighbors feel self-condemned and inferior. Their neighbors began sitting in judgment of them—condemning them—for the ways of Christ which they had newly learned. And what were these Christians being judged for? Notice it! It was for keeping Christmas and Easter and Sunday—pagan holidays, not for abstention from certain foods and alcohol! No indeed! But—notice it: "Let no man therefore judge you in eating and drinking" (margin)—the Colossians were no longer ascetics—"or in connection with the observance of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbaths."

That is what they were being judged for—"in connection with the observance" (as Moffatt translates it)—of God's festivals, His calendar measured by the new moon, and the sabbath!

The once-pagan Colossians never kept these days before! They were heathen prior to conversion. Now that they had learned the gospel, they were keeping holy the days God made holy. And Paul is warning them not to return to or be influenced by their old pagan ways—the ways of their relatives and neighbors who hated God's law and His festivals.

For years most of us have taken for granted that these verses in Colossians were speaking of the law of Moses and rituals and sacrifices. They are not! There is nothing here about the ceremonial law—about animal sacrifices and drink offerings.

The original Greek is en broosei and en possei and means "in eating and in drinking." It does not mean meat and drink offerings. Every competent scholar acknowledges this to be true—yet they assume it does not mean eating and drinking but ritual sacrifices!

No, these verses are speaking of the Christian liberty to enjoy life! Jesus came eating and drinking (Matthew 11:19 and Luke 7:34). Jesus set us the example. He was no ascetic! And neither were the Colossian Christians any longer! They were daily enjoying the Christian life in temperance and self-control, and especially in connection with each feast, every new month and the weekly sabbaths!

What Did They Foreshadow?

Now notice verse 17. "Which are shadows of things to come . . ." Or, better translated, "which foreshadow things to come." Did these scriptural days foreshadow things to come? Indeed! Does the weekly sabbath foreshadow good things to come? Indeed it does! Not only is the weekly sabbath a memorial of creation—but it also foreshadows the seventh 1000-year in which man shall rest from his labors of sin. In speaking of the seventh day of the week, in Hebrews 4:4, the apostle Paul goes right on to show that that day foreshadows God's thousand year millennial rest. But does that do away with the weekly sabbath? Not at all! "There remaineth therefore the keeping of a sabbath to the people of God" (Hebrews 4:9, margin). Sabbathkeeping is a TEST OF OBEDIENCE. No one shall enter into an eternal rest unless he first, here and now, is willing to enter into the rest of each sabbath, each seventh day of the week. And that is exactly what the Colossians were doing—observing the weekly sabbaths.

In like manner the annual festivals, instituted as memorials, also foreshadow the plan of God. They were given to the Church in order to keep the Church in the knowledge of that plan.

Only one festival has been entirely fulfilled in type—the passover. Yet Jesus said that each year we are to celebrate it again: "Do this in remembrance of Me."

Seventh Day Adventists and other groups claim that Colossians 2:16 refers to annual feasts, new moons, and annual sabbaths—not to the weekly sabbaths.

The Good News

September, 1960

This is not true! Whenever the expression "sabbath days" is used with "holy days" and "new moons," the WEEKLY sabbaths are always meant! There is no exception. Read I Chr. 23: 31; II Chr. 2:4; 31:3; Ezra 3:5; Neh. 10:3.

All annual holy days are annual sabbaths!

Notice that in all these verses the weekly sabbaths are referred to in the plural just as in Colossians 2:16! Col. 2:16 includes both weekly and annual sabbaths! If it abolishes one, it abolishes the other. But as it establishes one, so it establishes the other as New Testament practice.

The Body of Christ

"Let no man therefore judge you in these matters, said Paul, "but (rather) the body of Christ" (Col. 2:17, last part).

This verse has troubled many. Yet it should not. Notice that the word "is" in the King James Version is in italics. It does not appear in the original. The original Greek says only: "the body of Christ." What is the body of Christ? How does Paul use this expression in Colossians?

Turn to chapter 1. In verse 18 we find that Christ is "the Head of the body, the church." And in Col. 2:19: "And not holding the Head, from which all the body by joints and bands have nourishment ministered . . ."

The true Church of God is the body of Christ. Just as the Spirit of God once dwelled in the earthly body of Jesus Christ, so now the Holy Spirit dwells in each member of the Church and together we constitute one body, doing the very work Christ did. We are therefore Christ's body today! And Christ is the Head as the Husband is the head of the wife (Ephesians 5:23).

No man is to sit in judgment of our Christian conduct, Paul is declaring in Colossians 2:16-17. Man does not determine how we should live. But it is the responsibility of the Church—the body of Christ—to determine these matters! The Church must teach how to observe the festivals—to explain the meaning of self-control, etc. So these little-understood verses ought to be translated clearly: "Let no man therefore judge you . . . but (rather) let the body of Christ (determine it)." Greek scholars recognize that the first expression "let no man" demands that there be a subsequent expression which tells who is to do the judging of the matter!

How plain these verses are. How clear that the Colossians were keeping holy the time God made holy!

Since the true meaning of the expression "handwriting of ordinances" according to the Bible is "acknowledgment of guilt through (following human) dogmas"—what about the "law of commandments in ordinances" mentioned in Ephesians 2:15?

Another Common Assumption

Here again people take for granted the Law of God or the "ceremonial" law of Moses! But it is neither! Notice hurriedly verses 11-12 of chapter 2: "Wherefore remember, that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh—not Jews, notice, but Gentiles—who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called the Circumcision in the flesh made by hands; that at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise"—having no knowledge of God's covenants and His laws—"having no hope, and without God in the world."

But Christ came to bring those far off near to God. How? Through the blood of Christ (verse 13). Christ reconciled us to God—reconciled the Gentile who was far off and the Jew who was near. This is explained in verse 16: "And that he might reconcile both unto God in one body by the cross, having slain the enmity thereby: and came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh." So we now have access to God by the Holy Spirit and whether Jew or Gentile are part of the one body—the body of Christ!

How did God reconcile us to Himself? Through the sacrifice of Christ! Christ paid for our sins! He condemned sin in the flesh. He conquered the carnal mind. "The carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be" (Romans 8:7). It was because of the enmity—the ill-will, the hatred—of the natural mind in every human being that Christ had to die. What stood between all humanity and God was the natural enmity in every human mind. That is what separated us from God. "But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid His face from you, that He will not hear" (Isaiah 59:2).

It is not the law of God that has separated us from God. It is the violation of that law—sin—that separated us. That is the meaning of Ephesians 2:14—"and hath broken down the middle wall of partition." Notice that the words "between us" have been added and are in italics. Granted that there was a physical wall in the temple which separated the Jews who were "near" to God from the Gentiles who were "far off," but merely reconciling Jew with Gentile would not reconcile us with God. It is our relationship to God that counts! The only wall referred to in Scripture is the wall that separates man from God. Notice Ezekiel 43:8. Because of idolatry—sin, God says "there was a wall between Me and them" (margin). That wall of sin—the natural enmity in the human heart and in society is broken down. Christ paid for it by sacrificing His own life for ours—"having abolished in his flesh the ENMITY"—having paid for sin and making possible the receipt of the Holy Spirit to conquer the carnality of man, the carnal opposition of society with its ways.

Jesus said, "I have overcome the world" (John 16:33). Through the power of the Spirit in our lives, we, too, can overcome the world, its customs, its false teachings, its heathen dogmas masquerading in the name of Christ, the dictates of society! That is what Christ abolished—"Having abolished in his flesh the ENMITY, even the law of commandments in ordinances". Notice it! The enmity against God is expressed by commands in the form of "ordinances"—dogmas, in the Greek—the very commandments of men, human tradition, heathen customs, the dictates of society, which Paul condemned in Colossians. That is what Christ abolished through His sacrifice. The Gentile Ephesians did not know the law of God—they never practiced the law of Moses. It was their frightful sins which separated them from God.

Now they were reconciled to God, forgiven of their past sin. They had the Spirit of God to overcome themselves and to overcome the world around them, with its human traditions, its human dogmas, its human commandments which were in opposition to God and to His law! There is certainly not one word here about the law of Moses or the Ten Commandments being annulled.

Yes, it does make a difference to God whether we obey Him. It does make a difference which days we keep! But what about Galatians 4:10 and Romans 14:5-6. What are the days referred to here?

Esteeming One Day Above Another

Let's notice what the apostle Paul wrote in Romans 14: 5, 6.

"One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind." (Romans 14:5, 6).

By taking these verses out of their setting, people make Paul say something altogether different from what he intended. Does Paul say to observe Christmas, Easter, Lent, Good Friday, Sunday, or the Festival of the Assumption of Mary into Heaven?

Does he say here that Jesus by His death did away with the very days He kept during His whole life?

Does Paul say "God esteemeth one day above another" and "God esteemeth every day alike?" NO! The Scripture says "one MAN esteemeth one day above another." This tells us what certain MEN thought, not what God says!

We are not to be judged by what men think, but by the word of God! John 12:48 reads: "The word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day." Jesus is not going to judge you by what any man believes, but by the words He spoke!

Next, notice that these saints at Rome, having differing opinions, were forbidden to judge one another as unworthy of Christ. "Who are you that judges another's servant? to his own master he stands or falls. Yes, he shall be helped up: for God is able to make him stand" (Rom. 14:4).

Paul is not sanctioning nor condemning any particular periods of time, but warning the saints not to judge one another and cause strife for having differing opinions about things they did not yet understand clearly.

The Lord is the Judge of their deeds. "He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord, and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth not regard it." Continuing, "Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind."

Does this give license to believe whatever you want? God commands; "Lean not unto thine own understanding" (Prov. 3:5). How are you going to be fully assured in your own mind UNTIL YOU KNOW WHAT GOD SAYS IN HIS WORD? "The holy scriptures . . . are able to make you wise to salvation," wrote Paul (II Tim. 3:15).

By studying the Word of God to prove all things, and by holding fast that which is good (1 Thess. 5: 21). YOU BECOME FULLY PERSUASED IN YOUR OWN MINDS concerning what God says.

Converts at Rome Were Weak

The saints at Rome were weak in the faith, not having acquired perfect knowledge. Paul says: 'For I long to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual gift, to the end that you may be established" (Rom. 1:11).

It is so plain. Here were new converts at Rome, without a regular local congregation, still weak in the faith, who were divided in their regard of certain customs. Paul told them not to sit in judgment of one another, but to follow peace, because God would judge them, after setting them aright through more perfect knowledge which Paul was going to preach to them. In the meantime they were to act in accordance with the best they knew from God's Word, not man's word.

This did not give them liberty to do as they pleased. They were to obey what God revealed. It would be sin if they disobeyed after the knowledge of the truth had come. For to him that knows to do good and doesn't do it, it is sin (James 4:17; John 9:41).

What Were These Days?
But what days was Paul referring to?
Let's read these verses in Romans 14 in their setting, rather than take them out of their context. Notice! Paul is writing to the saints at Rome, both Jew and Gentile. He admonished them to receive those who are weak in the faith and Gentile. He admonished them to truth had come.

Beginning with verse 6, Paul ceases to speak to the Jews. Now he is speaking to the Gentile converts. He does not say "we," but "you." Notice it! "Howbeit, then, when ye knew not God"— remember, the Jews knew God, but the Gentiles had not known God before the preaching of the gospel! Jesus said to the Gentile Samaritan woman: "Ye"— the Gentiles—worship ye know not what; "we"—the Jews—know what we worship for salvation is of the Jews (John 4:22).

Continuing with Gal. 4:8: "When ye knew not God, ye did service unto them which by nature are no gods. But now, after that ye have known God, ye turn again unto the weak and beggar ly elements, whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage?"

These converts to whom Paul is now writing were not Jews! They were Gentiles by birth. These Gentile converts in times past did not know God, were cut off from Him (see Eph. 2:12), "were slaves to gods which were no gods at all." They had been serving demons and idols, not the Living God. False teachers were coming among them, perverting the true gospel, beguiling them to turn to their former ways. Paul was alarmed. They were departing from the gospel and RETURNING to what? "Days, and months, and times and years."

Pagan practices! —doing penance on Christmas, Easter, New Year's, Sunday!
They couldn't be returning to God's festivals. They never kept them before Paul preached about them.

What Are "Times"?
Next, turn to Leviticus 19:26 and Deuteronomy 18:10, 14. Here Moses, according to the command of God, orders the Israelites not to observe
"TIMES!" This is ABSOLUTE PROOF that the days Paul is forbidding are pagan and not God's. When one observes
"times" originally was a heathen practice often attached to the heavenly bodies, especial

We are new members. I realize that our family should attend the Feast of Tabernacles. Please explain how we can afford to make the trip.

The Feast of Tabernacles is not a man-made. It is a holy convocation—a commanded assembly! (Lev. 23:7, 21).

God does not say "if" you want to come. He orders you to attend.

Besides being the command of a loving God, attending these festivals is a great joy and privilege. God gave these days for our good—that we might come to know Him better, to know and love the brethren, and that the true Church of God might be bound together.

Many of you whom we have met on baptizing tours say that you would give anything to experience the joy and thrill of meeting with more of God's own children—the type of humble, sincere, God-fearing people with whom you can freely discuss God's word in love and learning.

Attending God's annual festivals is His solution—the Bible solution—the way to make it financially possible for everyone to keep His Holy Days!

That way is through saving a second tithe to cover your personal expenses.

First, let us understand the purpose of the second tithe. God, in His Word, commands us to assemble at His set feasts. In order to make our attendance possible, God ordained that we set aside each year a second tithe to cover expenses to and from the festival. You will find this explained in Deut. 14:23-26 and 16:13-15.

In ancient times, when travel expenses were of little consequence, the tithe was used to cover food expenses primarily. But today, since the purpose of the second tithe is to enable us to attend the festivals, much more of it has to be spent for transportation than for food.

Now let us notice where the second tithe was to be spent:

"Thou shalt truly tithe all the increase of thy seed, that the field bringeth forth year by year. And thou shalt eat before the Lord thy God, in the place which he shall choose to place his name there; that thou mayest learn to fear the Lord thy God always. And if the way be too long for thee, so that thou art not able to carry it; or if the place be too far from thee, which the Lord thy God shall choose to set his name there, when the Lord thy God hath blessed thee: then shalt thou turn it into money, and shalt go unto the place which the Lord thy God shall choose, and thou shalt eat there before the Lord thy God, and thou shalt rejoice" (Deut. 14:22-27).

The second tithe—the tenth that God wants us to use, which is another and separate tenth from the first tithe that He reserves for Himself for the carrying out of the gospel—the second tithe we are to use to attend the festivals. But let us read further.

"Thou mayest not eat within thy gates the tithe of thy corn, of thy wine ... but thou MUST eat them before the Lord thy God in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter" (Deut. 12:17-18).

Here is a positive command not to use the second tithe at home if you are otherwise unable to attend. You must use it to enable you to attend the festivals at the place which God chooses. If the money is spent for any other purpose, then you are breaking a command of God—you are not learning to fear His authority—and you are cheating yourself of the wonderful blessing of fellowship with others of like faith.

If for sudden unforeseen circumstances you are unable to attend the festivals, and if you are prosperous, it would be the right and brotherly duty to enable others to use your tithe. It can be sent to Pasadena, with an explanation that it is to enable others to attend.

But if you are like most of the brethren, not having many worldly goods, and a small income or none at all, and if you are unable to come to the festival, you should save it until the next year or for two years, if necessary, when you will then have enough to assemble where God has chosen to place His name. Meanwhile, you will be observing the festivals at home just as you would at the feast in Glendale or London.

In a few cases some aid the poorer brethren through the extra second tithe of those few who have more than enough. But only those who have faithfully saved their insufficient second tithe deserve the extra help. If you have not tried to save your little, God can not deem you worthy of His extra assistance.

The Feast begins this year at sunset Oct. 5 and ends sunset Oct. 13. The annual sabbaths are Oct. 6 and Oct. 13, beginning previous evening.

Does It Matter Which Days We Observe?

Paul was condemning Jews for returning to the Sabbath and holy days of God, which they claim were in the Law of Moses. But the Law of Moses forbade observance of "times." Paul was writing to Gentiles who wanted to return to observing penance on the Gentile "days" associated with "times"—pagan "times" or "seasons"—such as the Easter and Christmas seasons!

The Catholic Bishop Chrysostom, who lived in the fourth century, admits that these superstitious times which Paul forbids, were pagan customs practiced by "Christians" in his day, as in the days of old. He says: "Many were superstitiously addicted to divination . . . upon them . . . In the celebration of these times [they] set up lamps in the marketplace, and crown their doors with garlands"—as is done at Christmas today! (From Bingham's Antiquities of the Christian Church, pp. 1123, 1124).

Besides times, the Greeks observed special days in honor of the dead. "The rites took place on the . . . unlucky days accompanied by complete idleness and cessation of business" (From Resl Days, p. 79). Today several churches celebrate pagan days in honor of the dead, such as All Souls' Day and All Saints' Day [called Hallowe'en by the world]. These are the heathen days Paul forbids Christians to observe!

These Gentile Galatians were returning to the custom of doing penance on the old pagan days—days which now masquerade under Christian sounding names!

"Many of the holy days in the religious calendar of Christendom were borrowed, as is well known, from the festivals of ancient paganism" (Resl Days, p. 306).

Paul denounces this vain and abominable practice. We are NOT TO LEARN the way of the heathen (Jer. 10).

In connection with the old pagan idolatry, were numerous days observed as idolatrous penitential festivals. These days were consecrated to deities of the state religious cults and were "unlucky" because of the supposed influence of the gods!

These religious holidays were set aside as periods of penance because they were "regarded as unsuitable for many purposes, both public and private: for battles, levies, sacred rites, journeys and marriages. We are told that they owed their unlucky quality to the pronouncement of the Senate and pontiffs." (From Rest Days by Webster, p. 171.)

As many as one third of the days of the old Greek and Roman calendars were marked as "unlawful for judicial and political business... . on which the state expected the citizens to abstain, as far as possible, from their private business and labour!"

No wonder Paul spoke of "days!"

And how many "worldly" as well as religious people still have similar beliefs today! Such as "unlucky" Friday the thirteenth!

What could be plainer? Our people "forgot Me, says the Lord"—because they have rejected His holy days. "And in that day"—the very near future when Christ intervenes in world affairs—"I will remove the names of the Baals from her mouth, and they shall be mentioned by name no more" (Hosea 2:13, 17, RSV).

How clear! Israel today—our people—have adopted the feast days of Baal. The greatest of church holidays—Easter—is named after the wife of Baal or Nimrod. God forbids us to honor Him by celebrating these Babylonish feasts. God warns: "Take heed... . that thou inquire not... . How used these nations to serve their gods? even so will I do likewise. 'THOU SHALT NOT DO SO UNTO THE LORD THY GOD. For every abomination which He hateth, have they done unto their gods' (Deut. 12:30-31).

These pagan abominations are forbidden by the apostle Paul in Galatians. That is New Testament teaching!

Misunderstood Texts in the Old Testament

God chose Israel for a special mission they have failed to perform. He revealed to them His Sabbath as a sign so they would never forget that He is the Creator. He also gave Israel annual holy days, memorials, to commemorate Israel's sins to deliver the world from sin.

But Israel did not remain faithful to these God-given festivals! They invented days of their own!

Several chapters are devoted by the prophet Ezekiel to a condemnation of Israel for breaking the Sabbaths God had given. Take special note of Ezekiel 20:12-26 and 22:26. The punishment inflicted upon the House of Israel was for desecrating the Sabbaths.

What was the extreme evil of Sabbath-breaking? With the desecration of the Sabbaths, idolatry was a natural consequence, and Sunday, Christmas and Easter were introduced. These pagan holidays God calls "abominations!"

Some clave facts in the Old Testament in which God says "My" Sabbaths and festivals "I hate." This is not truc. God said: "I hate, I despise your feast days, and... . your solemn assemblies." Notice it, "Your new moons and your appointed feasts my soul hateth: for they are a trouble unto me" (Amos 5:21; 8:10, Isaiah 1:10-15; Hosea 2:11).

These were not divine institutions, but man-appointed days observed in Israel. These days God despised.

Ancient Israel did not continue to observe the holy days of God. They refused His judgments and statutes (Ezekiel 20:18). They copied the heathen idolatrous feast days of surrounding nations. History proves this fact!

The chronicler of ancient Israel preserved a record of just such a change in the laws of God, when the House of Israel separated from Judah.

And Jeroboam ordained a feast in the eighth month, on the fifteenth day of the month, like unto the feast that is in Judah, and he offered upon the altar... . sacrificing unto the calves that he had made... . the fifteenth day of the eighth month, even in the month which he had devised of his own heart... . (1 Kings 12:32, 33). This feast is the origin of Hallowe'en!

Thereafter Israel altered the new moons and changed the Sacred Calendar. They exchanged the Sabbaths for idolatrous days for sun-worship—the rest day was transferred from Saturday to Sunday. Israel, taking over the feasts of the heathen Baal—sun-worship—turned them into idolatrous rest days according to the statutes of the kings of Israel (II Kings 17:8).

When the House of Israel is next found in history, as the nations of Northwestern Europe, they are keeping the day of the sun! So the Ever-Living God never hated nor abolished His feasts. But He did hate the different days which Israel invented!

Now let us continue with the history of the Jews.

Did Judah Remain Faithful?

Consider now what God says about "Jewish" feasts!

Now notice the first chapter of Isaiah. It is addressed in particular to Judah. Like the ancient people of Sodom and Gomorrah, the Jews instituted their own appointed feasts and tampered with the period of the new moon. "Your new moons and your appointed feasts my soul hateth," said the Word of the Lord (Isaiah 1:14). This was the beginning of what are customarily called "Jewish feasts." Being instituted by the Jews they were naturally "Jewish."

But nothing is said about the Jews instituting their own Sabbath! It is not surprising then, that the Jews have preserved the right Sabbath of God to our generation. The House of Israel (the Democratic nations of the Western World) which did not keep the seventh day as the Sabbath, has never observed it since.

Although the Jews added their own appointed feasts and new moons, they also retained the Biblical ones—"the new moons and Sabbaths, the calling of assemblies." These they turned into abominations and profaned by idolatry and labor. "I cannot endure iniquity," says God, "along with the solemn assembly." No wonder God abhorred the manner in which the Jews treated His holy Sabbath and festivals (Hab. 2:12). The manner in which the Jews treated the Sabbath, and festivals became the example of this present civilization, of some one million people. The Kingdom of God has been preached mightily for one whole year in this city since the last baptismal tour. One of the best stations in this city, which covers the Pacific Coast from Canada to Mexico, and including part of Alaska, had broadcast the World Tomorrow nightly. Many hundreds of thousands of people listen to this broadcast at a very prime radio time. Out of all of these people, how many do you suppose, in one year's time, had come to the point where they even wanted to be baptized? Only eleven! Think how many thousands of people in that great city had heard the word of the Kingdom of God, did not fully understand it, and then the little they did understand was snatched away by Satan.

But of those eleven only six met us. And out of those six who met us, not one was willing to completely give his life to Jesus Christ. Certainly Christ's words of Matthew 13:19 were fulfilled. There were others, elderly people, who had lived wrong all of their lives. Now at the closing months or years of their lives, they wanted to "make their peace with God." They read that they should be baptized and they had not yet been baptized. It didn't matter too much who did it, they just wanted to be baptized. They were not ready yet to repent of their ways. What little they did understand was being snatched away.

Then there were others that we met on our tour, who had not yet been baptized, but who were already coming up against trials and difficult decisions because of God's word and His commands. Some had the problem of adultery. They were living in sin contrary to God's commands. Here was a real trial. And some were not willing to obey God. A few had problems in regard to the Sabbath. They were not yet willing to obey God on this point.

Of those who were baptized some may yet fall, because of tribulation and trials. Others will permit the cares of this world and the deceitfulness of riches to rob them of their goal, the Kingdom of God. They will not keep their eyes single to that goal, and will not do the work which God has called them to do with all their might (Eccl. 9:10).

In Their "First Love"!

How joyful it is to meet people who are now in their "first love," and who are zealous for the work of God. One example was a very fine Puerto Rican couple. The wife could not read English, nor understand English well. Her husband had to translate many of our comments into Spanish. He had really studied very diligently in God's Word. In fact, he would put many of our brethren who have had the privilege of a better education to shame. He has really been feeding on the good Word of God. Now, he was willing to repent of his own sinful ways and follow Jesus Christ. Even though his wife could not understand or speak English very well, she had really yielded her life to God. Her fine attitude was far more evident than many that we met on our tour.

Others we met were living in adultery, but they decided to obey God, and not continue on in that sinful life. It is certainly heartwarming to see people who are willing to give up some things in order to obey God and to prepare themselves for the Kingdom of God.

Ambassador Prospect

We met one young man who was just 17½ years old. His father and mother were of an entirely different religion, and his older brother had completed three years at a theological seminary. Even with such a background, he had been listening to the broadcast for several years, had completed approximately 23 lessons in the Correspondence Course, and had really learned many of the ways of God. Not many young men would apply themselves in learning God's true ways at this age under such circumstances. This young man determined that he wanted to attend Ambassador College and has now been accepted. Here is one example of some of the fine young people that God is calling to this college.

A woman we met had been looking for God's Church all her life. She had looked first in one church and then another. Everywhere she looked she could not find God's true Church. One of her friends, who was of the Jehovah Witness sect, made comments about the World Tomorrow broadcast. She asked about the broadcast, and was told where to find it on her radio. She listened to the broadcast—at last she had found God's Church! How joyful she was to have the opportunity to find God's Church in this end time.

We met a young couple who had been listening to the broadcast less than six months. In that short time they had come to a complete attitude of repentance. And yet we met others who had been listening to the broadcast for fifteen or more years, and were no closer to repentance now than when they first heard it. They still were not willing to obey God.

One young wife and mother we met had been reared in the Mormon religion. She told us how her mother formerly had a very serious illness. Her mother heard the broadcast, and came to Ambassador College to have one of God's ministers anoint her with oil according to the command of James 5. She came here on crutches, and went away without using them! God healed her before she even left the campus! This was a real witness to the daughter. The daughter then began to listen to the broadcast and to study the literature. She told us that she was the type of person who believed in going all the way or not at all. Finally she came to the point where she realized she would have to either reject this knowledge or do something about it. At first she decided to reject it. She burned all of the literature that she had received from Mr. Armstrong. Later she again turned back to God. She really did come to complete and true repentance, and was baptized.

You Had a Part Too!

We only reaped a small harvest on our very short tour. Other tours spent... the whole summer crossing the United States visiting people similar to this. All of these tours saw many scores of lives being changed through the power of God's Holy Spirit, and through the message that is heard over the WORLD TOMORROW broadcast. But do you realize that you had a very vital and important part in this harvest? Do you realize it would have been impossible for us to have even gone on a tour without the collective labor of all of God's Church. Without the tithes and offerings of God's people, we could not have gone. It was imperative that we had the prayers of all God's people back of us. But this was only a very small part of this great work of God. It would be impossible to have the broadcast going to the world without our combined support, with the power of God.

The 12th chapter of Corinthians and the 4th chapter of Ephesians show that we are all a part of the body of Christ, and that we all have our separate responsibilities to perform. We must be united in doing this great work. We must have God's Spirit within us, and be of one mind and attitude.

God Gives the Increase

After we do all that we can, there is still much that is lacking. Let's compare it to a farmer who grows vegetables. Someone must first go out and prepare the soil for the seed. The ground must be fertilized and ploughed. Another may go out later and sow the seed. After that it is necessary that the ground be watered, and the weeds removed. After a length of time the vegetables are harvested. Many people may be involved, instead of the work of one man. But who gives the increase? Paul explained in 1 Cor. 3:6-9 that He had planted the seed, and Apollos had watered. God gave the increase!

The man who works is not anything but it is God who is important (verse 7). We are also told (verse 8) that we are going to receive a reward according to our own personal labor. How much labor are you doing in the work of God?

"For we are laborers together with God: ye are God's husbandry (farmers—working for Him). . . ."

Don't You Make Excuse!

The seed is now being sown through the broadcast and through the literature. Many are being called but few are answering the call. Even many of you in God's Church are not doing the part that God has called you to do. Therefore it seems we have a continual need of funds and of qualified spiritual leaders among our laymen.

Many are offering all kinds of excuses as to why they cannot do what God has given them to do. Christ explains this in Luke 14:16-24. He tells of the great supper where many people are invited. Here is the invitation that God is giving to all those that he is calling. God is now sending out His servants to invite many to the feast.

The setting of the parable is at supper time or evening (verse 1). "And they all with one consent began to make excuse" (Luke 14:18). One man had bought a piece of ground, apparently sight unseen. Now that it was almost night time he had to go to see it, and could not come to the feast. Another man had purchased five yoke of oxen. It was evening and now he wanted to go to prove them. What silly excuses. And yet these are just like the excuses that people are giving today for not obeying God. This is just like some of the excuses that some of you are making as to why you are not doing the work that God has called you to do. Do you have such "lame duck" excuses as to why you cannot be a profitable servant?

Don't have such excuses when God first calls you. Don't have such excuses if your labor and work becomes routine, or the novelty wears off. You need to press forward and persevere unto the end.

Called to Work

God has not called us to a social club, but He has called us to WORK! We are not called to be independent, but we are a part of one body. We have a joint work to do, a spiritual work as Christ explained in John 6:27. Verse 28 mentions the work of God. "That work is to believe on Christ, to do the things that He said, to fulfill the commission that He gave us. The world is doing work which will perish. Many are prospering in this world, but what they have accumulated will be destroyed. They are not called to do God's work. You and I are called to do God's work. Our work need not perish. We can be instrumental in helping others to learn God's ways. To help others change their lives in repentance and obedience to God. That kind of labor brings fruit which will never perish.

God has called many to do this spiritual work, and yet so few are actually doing it. Many do not realize that night is coming very soon when no man can work (John 9:4-5). The time is coming when there will be a famine of the word of God (Amos 8:11). We must work now, because our work here will soon end. There is a work to finish now. Don't be slack in this work, or leave it to others to do for you.

We read that because of the work of God, and because of the lack of others, one of God's ministers in apostolic times became sick near to death (Phil. 2:25-30). Here was a man who supplied the lack of others (verse 30). Some were not doing their full part. Even though this church of Philippi received one of Paul's warmest letters, they still were lacking in some things. It is the same today, because of the lack of many, others have to do more than their share.

Christ set us an example of what we should be doing. Even at the age of 12 He told His parents that He must be about His Father's business (Luke 2:49). He had a work to do and He finished that work. He came to do the will of God who sent Him and to finish His work (John 4:34). He is also doing a work through us today. The harvest is now ripe (verse 35). And yet some of those that God has called to labor are saying, "I will do my part later. I will work next year." Christ said we were not to put off our duties. God wants us to do the work that He has given us to do now, then we may all rejoice together (verse 36).

Are you really doing your part? Are you personally faithful in what God has called you to do? Are you faithful in praying that God will cause more people to send in of their tithes and offerings? Are you personally faithful in sending in your own tithes and offerings? Are you an example and a light to others?

Back Up Those at the "Front"!

You should "back up" those whom God has put in the "front of the battle," with all your might. You should give your life completely and unreservedly to God without any strings attached. Be willing to serve God no matter how menial a task He might give you to do. Exhort and help others, encourage them in the ways of God.

Do more than what is required of you (Luke 17:10) for if you do just what is required of you, you are going to be an unprofitable servant. Bring forth fruit in God's service. Do not have all kinds of excuses as to why you are not doing the particular work God has given you, and then blame others for what you think they ought to do. Don't let the trials of this life, or the cares of this world and the deceitfulness of riches separate you from this work of God. Put the Kingdom of God and the work of God first in all things and not the physical work of making a living and of acquiring material goods.

Brethren, there is a great task yet to be done in this work of God. God's work is waiting on you. Let's be about our Father's business!
